Report on Plantation Drive

Under Van Mahotsav Scheme of Govt. of U.P.

Date: 20 July 2024

Venue: Meerut Institute of Technology, Meerut

Organized by: Department of Pharmacy

On 20th July 2024, the Department of Pharmacy at Meerut Institute of Technology (MIT) conducted a plantation drive to contribute towards environmental sustainability and ecological balance. The event was organized with the vision of making the campus greener and promoting environmental awareness among students and faculty members.

The primary objective of the plantation drive was to enhance the greenery of the MIT campus and to inculcate a sense of responsibility toward the environment among the students. It aimed at reducing carbon footprints and encouraging sustainable practices in daily life.

Participants:

- Faculty members of the Department of Pharmacy
- Students from the Department of Pharmacy
- Administrative staff of the institute

Details of Plantation:

During the drive, a total of 301 plants of various species were planted across the campus. These species were carefully chosen to ensure diversity in flora and to support the local ecosystem. The plants included:

- Ashoka (Saraca asoca): Ornamental species with medicinal benefits.
- Kaner (Cascabela thevetia): The plant's toxins have tested in experiments for uses in biological pest control
- Jamun (Syzygium cumini): Favored for its fruit, timber, and ornamental value
- Guava (Psidium guajava): Guava leaves and fruit are used in medicine to treat a variety of conditions, including stomach and intestinal issues, pain, diabetes, and wound healing.
- Pomegranate (Punica granatum): Pomegranates are rich in antioxidants and flavonoids, and have many potential health benefits

Process:

The plantation drive started early in the morning with a formal inauguration by the Prof. (Dr.) Somendra Shukla. The event began with an introductory speech highlighting the importance of environmental conservation, followed by a hands-on demonstration of proper planting techniques.

Participants were divided into groups, with each group assigned a specific area on the campus for plantation. Faculty members guided students throughout the process, ensuring the plants were placed properly to optimize their growth.

Post-Plantation Care:

The department also outlined a maintenance plan to ensure the survival of the plants. A dedicated team has been formed to oversee the plants' health and provide necessary care, such as mulching, fertilization, and pest control, if needed.

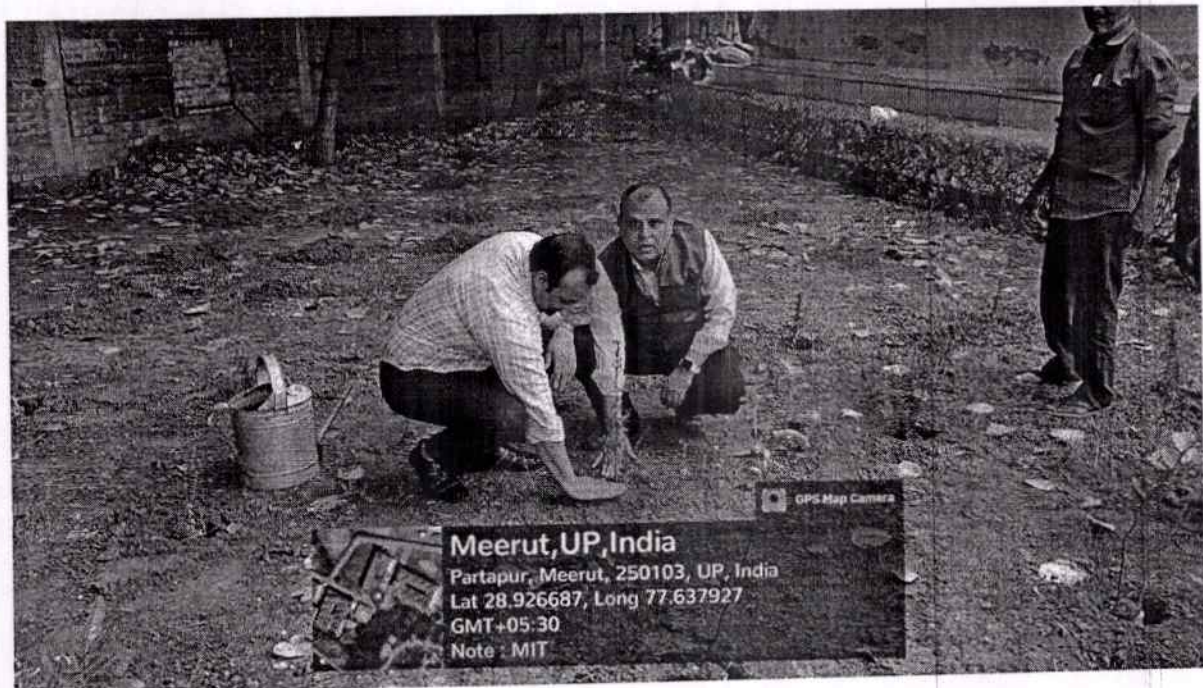

Environmental Impact:

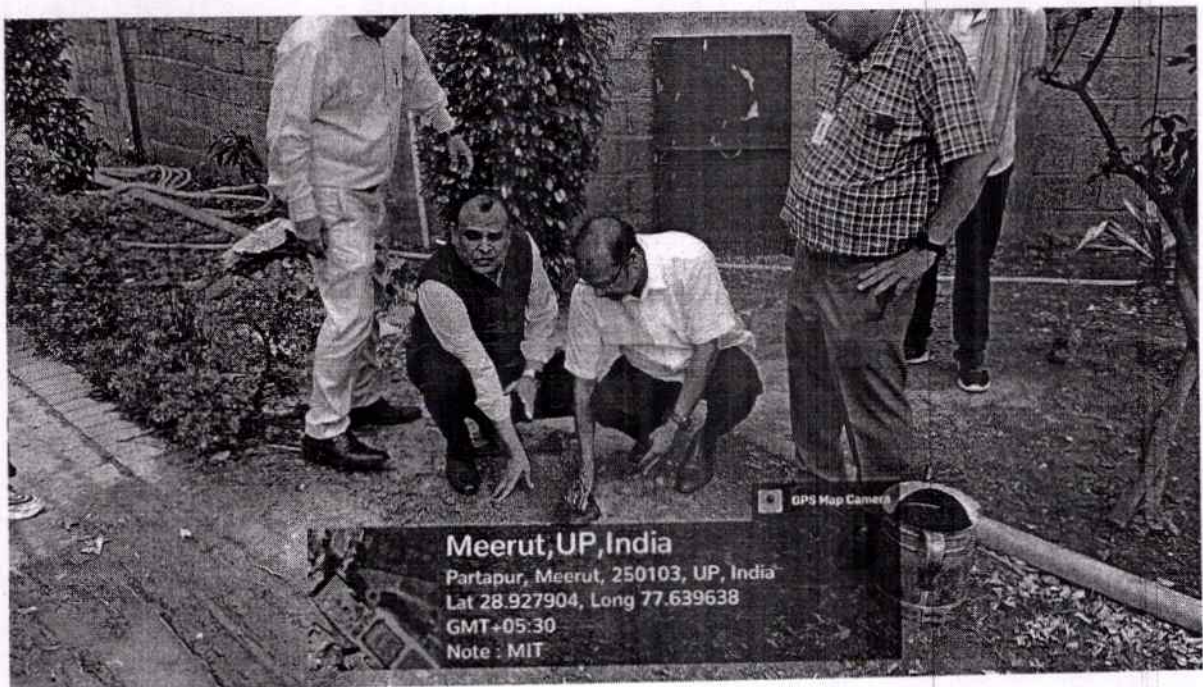

The plantation of 301 plants is expected to have a significant positive impact on the environment. As the trees grow, they will contribute to:

- Air quality improvement: Through the absorption of carbon dioxide and release of oxygen.
- Biodiversity enhancement: By providing habitat for birds, insects, and small animals.
- Temperature regulation: By providing shade and reducing the urban heat island effect on campus.

The plantation drive was a successful initiative that highlighted the collective effort of the MIT community toward creating a sustainable and greener environment. The participation of students and faculty members reflected their commitment to environmental conservation. The event not only contributed to the beautification of the campus but also served as a learning experience for everyone involved.

A Report on “Youth to Youth Quality Connect Program”
by Bureau of Indian Standards
at Meerut Institute of Technology on 12/10/2023

The Youth to Youth Quality Connect Program organized by the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) at the Meerut Institute of Technology (MIT) was a successful initiative aimed at educating and engaging the youth about the importance of quality standards in various industries. This program specifically focused on the ISI mark, CRS mark, Hallmark, and the concept of standardization. Additionally, the event provided detailed insights into the BIS Care application and its role in consumer protection. The program also included a Nukkad Natak (street play) aimed at spreading awareness about the significance of quality standards.

Key Objectives:

1. Raise Awareness about Quality Standards: The program aimed to familiarize the youth with the various quality marks that ensure consumer safety, trust, and product reliability.
2. Promote Standardization Practices: It focused on educating students about how standardization helps in enhancing the quality of products and services, which ultimately benefits consumers and industries alike.
3. Introduce BIS Initiatives: The participants were introduced to the BIS Care app, an important tool developed by BIS to enable consumers to check the authenticity of products and standards.
4. Engage through Creative Mediums: The street play (Nukkad Natak) was a unique approach to engage the audience and create a memorable impact about the importance of quality standards.

Program Highlights:

1. ISI Mark: The ISI mark is one of the most recognizable symbols in India, indicating that a product meets the national standards set by BIS. The program elaborated on how products with the ISI mark are tested for safety, reliability, and quality. The importance of ensuring that consumers opt for ISI-marked products to guarantee safety was emphasized.

2. CRS Mark: The Compulsory Registration Scheme (CRS) Mark pertains to specific products that require compulsory registration with BIS for consumer safety. The program explained the types of products covered under the CRS and how the registration process works, ensuring that only those manufacturers who comply with the prescribed safety and quality standards are allowed to sell these products.
3. Hallmark: The Hallmark mark is used for certifying the quality of gold and silver jewelry in India. The session covered the different levels of purity and the procedures followed by BIS to ensure that only genuine precious metals are sold to consumers. Students were also shown how to check the authenticity of hallmark certification on jewelry.
4. Standardization: A detailed discussion was held on standardization, explaining how it helps streamline processes, reduce costs, and ensure consistency in product quality across industries. It was made clear that standardization is key to boosting both domestic and international trade, enhancing the global competitiveness of Indian industries.
5. BIS Care Application: An informative session was conducted on the BIS Care app, a mobile application designed for consumers to verify whether a product complies with BIS standards. Through the app, consumers can scan the QR code or enter the license number of a product to confirm its authenticity. The app helps protect consumers from counterfeit products, ensuring they make informed purchasing decisions.
6. Nukkad Natak (Street Play): The program included a nukkad natak, a street play performance that conveyed the importance of quality standards in a creative and engaging manner. The actors, predominantly students from MIT, performed a skit showcasing the perils of using substandard products and the consequences of neglecting quality standards. The street play received a great response from the audience, driving home the importance of choosing certified products and understanding the role of BIS in consumer protection.

Outcome and Impact:

- Awareness: The program successfully raised awareness among the students about the role of BIS in ensuring product quality and consumer safety.
- Engagement: The interactive nature of the program, including presentations, demonstrations, and the nukkad natak, engaged the participants and made the learning experience more impactful.

- Practical Knowledge: Students were provided with practical knowledge about the different quality marks and how to use modern tools like the BIS Care app to protect themselves from substandard products.
- Behavioral Change: The street play was particularly effective in encouraging students to adopt responsible consumer behavior, urging them to always look for ISI marks, Hallmarks, and other certifications when making purchases.

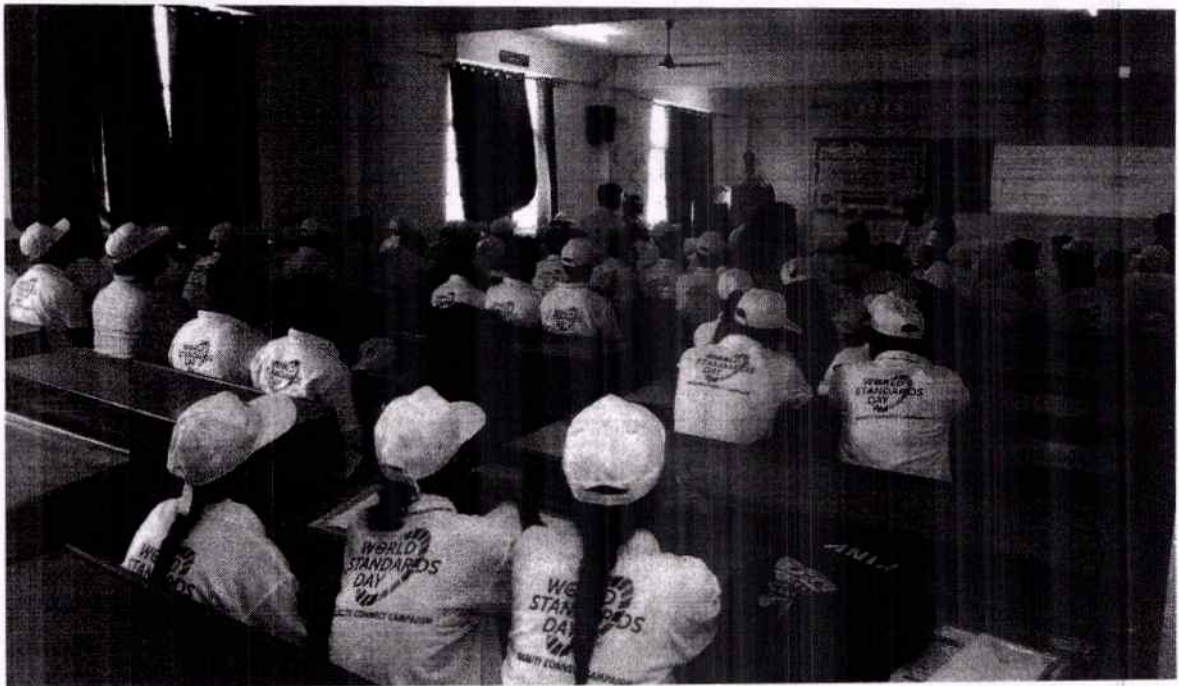

Conclusion:

The Youth to Youth Quality Connect Program at Meerut Institute of Technology was a significant initiative by the Bureau of Indian Standards aimed at educating the youth about quality standards and their role in ensuring consumer safety. The inclusion of practical tools like the BIS Care app, along with interactive sessions and creative performances, made the program a success. The students left with a deeper understanding of the importance of quality standards and the role of BIS in protecting consumers and promoting fair trade practices.

4. Comment on the INSPIRE Internship camp:

This type of camps are really beneficial for science students. They get good opportunities to interact to eminent scientists and professors, this helps a lot in inculcating scientific temperament and approach.

5. Any difficulty faced to organize the camp:

Mentors list may be updated with the latest mobile numbers. There seems a need to augment the list with some additional names of mentors, there are several such academicians and scientists who have great academic credentials and their services could be availed for the purpose.

6. Suggestions to further improve the INSPIRE Internship camps:

This is already one of the best options for INSPIRING the potential youngsters towards science. CSIR young scientist awardees may be included as mentors. These camps can be organized in a bigger format where in we can club various hand in activities for a better engagement of the intern.

7. Overall impact of the INSPIRE Internship Camp:

The students learned a lot from the lectures and labs conducted and were very useful for them.

Over all it makes a great impact

Event Report: Connecting Farmers and Increasing Income Through Agri-Business Incubation at Meerut Institute of Technology, Meerut

(17th May, 2024)

Introduction

On 17th May 2024, Meerut Udyami Foundation organized an inspiring dialogue program at the Meerut Institute of Technology, Partapur Bypass, Meerut. The event brought together more than 100 social workers and journalists from across the district to foster a meaningful discussion on the theme of "Connecting Farmers and Increasing Income Through Agri-Business Incubation."

Objective

The primary aim of the program was to create awareness and build a collaborative framework to support Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs) and agriculture-related startups. The focus was on leveraging Agri-Business Incubation as a tool to empower farmers, increase their income, and integrate them into the government's startup ecosystem.

Highlights

During the event, Dr. Madhuri Gupta, CEO of Meerut Udyami Foundation, emphasized the groundbreaking steps taken by the foundation to empower farmers. She highlighted that, for the first time in Uttar Pradesh, an agri-business incubation initiative has succeeded in helping FPOs gain recognition as startups. This recognition, provided by the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India, has opened new avenues for FPOs to access government schemes and resources previously available only to startups.

Dr. Gupta explained how this initiative directly contributes to doubling farmers' income, aligning with the national agenda for agricultural development. She further encouraged agriculture-related startups to join Meerut Udyami Foundation to enhance their operational capacity and income potential.

Oath Ceremony

A significant moment during the event was when over 100 social workers and journalists collectively took an oath to work in the interest of farmers. This public commitment underlined the collaborative spirit and dedication of the attendees toward the betterment of the agricultural community.

Presence of Dignitaries

The event was graced by several prominent individuals, including:

Following this, an awareness rally was held, emphasizing reducing plastic use and promoting green transportation. Students shared information on the harmful effects of plastic products on the environment and appealed for the use of alternatives. On this occasion, Sumit Rana said, "We all need to understand our responsibility towards environmental protection and take small steps, such as reducing plastic use and using public transport more frequently."

Roopal stressed the importance of green transportation, saying, "We should promote cycling, walking, and using electric vehicles to reduce air pollution and keep our environment safe." At the end of the program, Asim Rizvi stated, "Our aim is not just to focus on one day but to remain aware of environmental conservation throughout the year.
